EDUCARE

Education is not something we can put off during the lockdown. We need to engage our children in the right way. Is there any help that we can get from the free education platforms that might interest our children? It's good to explore to keep our children into continuous learning spree.

DB YaR Forum recommends such initiative to make the learning more interesting. Here are some recommendations to start with.

1. KHAN ACADEMY

www.khanacademy.org

Khan Academy is an online coaching website. Students who cannot afford a coaching can refer to this website. It gives a win-win situation to the students by giving them the liberty to learn on their pace, as it has a personalised dashboard to gauge the progress report.

Why Khan Academy works

Personalized learning

Students practice at their own pace, first filling in gaps in their understanding and then accelerating their learning.

Trusted content

Created by experts, Khan Academy's library of trusted, standards-aligned practice and lessons covers math K-12 through early college, grammar, sciences, history, SATs, and more. It's all free for learners and teachers.

Tools to empower teachers

With Khan Academy, teachers can identify gaps in their students' understanding, tailor instruction, and meet the needs of every student.

3. HOWCAST

www.howcast.com

It's a one-stop website for all the subjects. it has many arenas. Keeping the essence of inquisitiveness alive, the portal functions on the common key words including the word 'how'.

The primary happiness of a child consists in knowing that they are loved. The young must not only be loved, but they must know they are loved. In every young person, even the most difficult, there is a vulnerable spot for good. The first duty of an educator is to find it.
