EDUTAINMENT

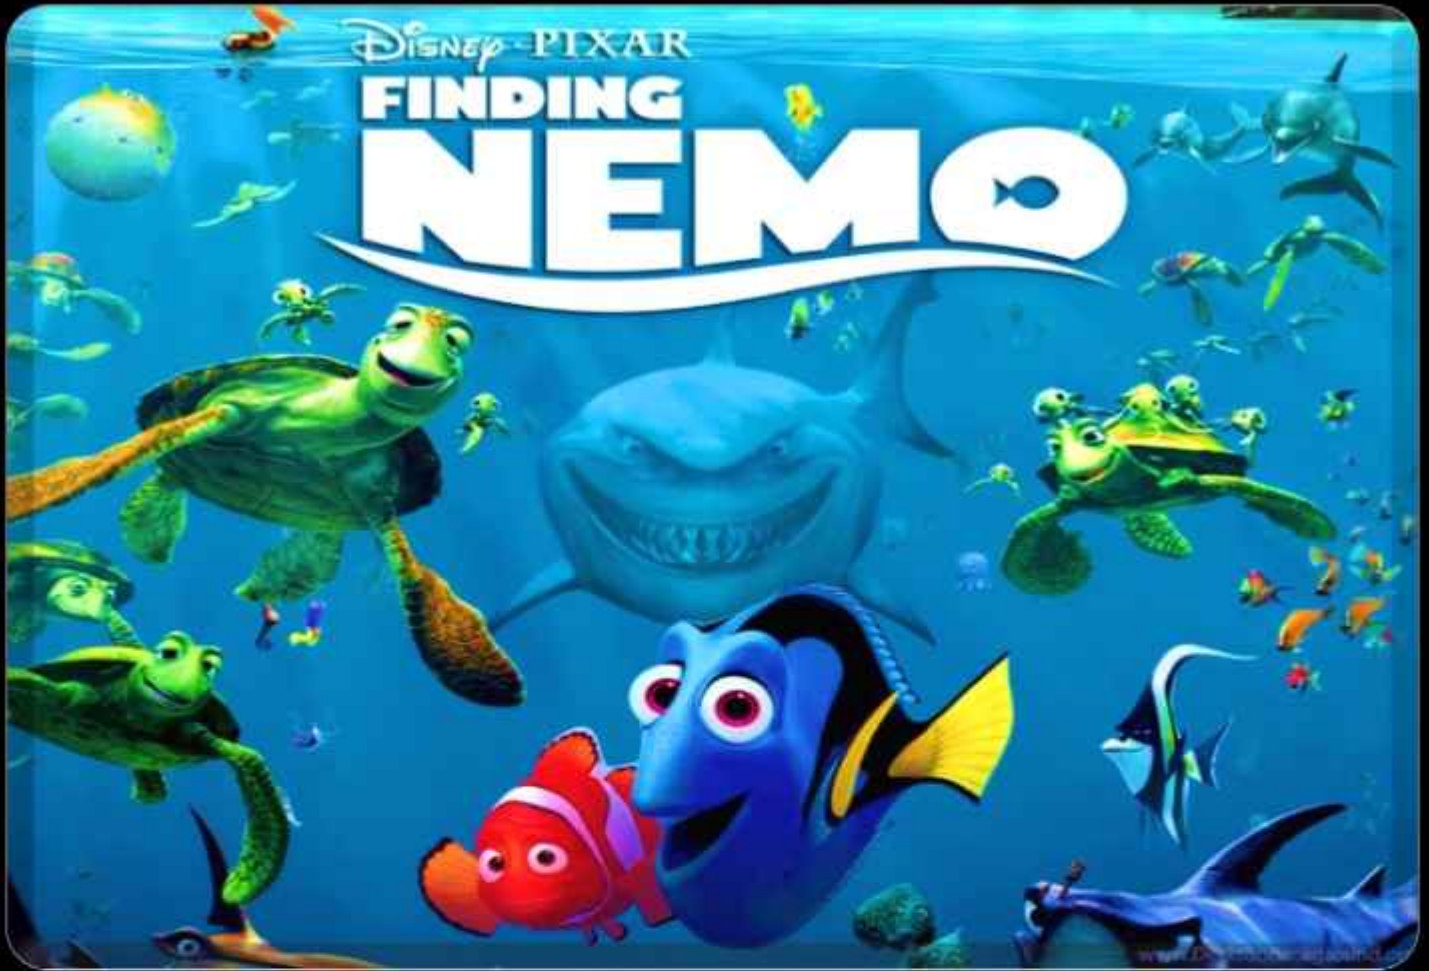

A child's development does not depend on schooling and books alone, playtime and movies help in their development too. Educational movies can help in the overall development of the child as these movies render important life lessons that cannot be taught through books. Movies can also help children to transform their behaviour in a good way

1. FINDING NEMO

The story of a father looking for his lost son took the world by storm and soon became one of the top family movies of all time. The story revolves around the concept of parenting. Listen to your parents and be careful about the dangers that surround your lives. It also teaches kids to be brave and courageous even in the face of adversity. Valuing those friends who help you when you are in trouble is also a valuable lesson.

2. BABE

While pigs may not be looked at, as cute domestic animals, this movie flips the table around and makes everyone fall in love with a wonderful pig who finds its way in life. Babe is a dilogy that demonstrates unique lessons. This movie can teach the kids to believe in their abilities and be confident to try out new things without being afraid. This movie will show you to be in an unknown environment, but keeping calm and staying true to yourself, can help you find your own way

3. THE STORY OF MANKIND

This movie takes the audience on a journey, right from the origin of the universe, through the development of civilizations, showing us how mankind evolved. The movie is extremely focused on providing great visuals, which makes it easier for kids to understand the concepts of old history, that might be too difficult to imagine. The origins can instill a sense of humility and can literally turn into a notebook for your kid's history lessons. Most historical innovations are described in this movie, too.

4. THE SOUND OF MUSIC

This movie has been considered to be one of the most important movies to have ever graced the 20th century. The backdrop of the war and fleeing from Austria might not be relevant to most kids. But what the movie helps children understand is that a positive perspective towards life can help you wade your way out of trouble. Maria is an amazing singer and she sings to drive away the sadness of life. She also teaches the kids to sing and soon they sing their own tunes too.

5. TOY STORY 2

While all Toy Story movies are great, the second movie has it special place in the Series. It very smartly explains the concepts of loyalty and friendship, by expanding on the meaning of family. Kids will have a gala time in understanding why 'Woody' finds all the old toys to be his family, even when he belongs to a different set and could lead a better life with them. It also teaches the importance of friendship

6. THE INCREDIBLES

Since the entire film revolves around a family having superpowers, you kids will have an amazing time watching it. While watching the movie, they will learn how all members of the family work together in keeping themselves safe. At the same time, it teaches them the responsibility that comes with superpowers and how one can be a good person by using them for good deeds.

7. MOANA

Moana is filled to the brim with life lessons that go way beyond finding true love. Like Moana, kids will learn to always follow their heart, no matter what the situation demands. They will also learn to face their fears and move onwards. If you watch closely, each and every character has a different and interesting lesson to teach.
